Foreword

We, the Senior Class of 1944, have presented another volume of the AURORA. It is our sincere desire that it will be an everlasting memory of our classmates, teachers and school days at B.H.S. If in years to come it has recalled these memories, we shall feel that our efforts have not been in vain.

Dedication

In dedicating this book to Mrs. Francis Hollen, we wish to express our deep feeling of gratitude for her patience and devotion in helping prepare us for life. She has been a friend to all and her kindness will always be remembered. To know her as a teacher and friend has been a privilege and a pleasure. This "Aurora" is but a small token of our appreciation for the efforts she has put forth in our behalf. This book will be a pleasant reminder of her and her teaching.

Principal's Message

Daily reminders impress us with the reality that we are at war. The actual fighting may be taking place thousands of miles away, but this in no wise alters the facts of the case. It is true that there are those who try to forget. There are those who do not and will not concern themselves about it. There are those who refuse to listen, to read or discuss the reality of the situation.

The truth of the situation does not come to us in the petty inconveniences of rationing, shortages, and the curtailment of certain activities and pleasures of years past; but rather in such unmistakable terms as added responsibilities, personal sacrifices, broken homes, separations, parting and farewells. Most homes and individuals have experienced some such event already, and few will be spared such before the war is ended and peace returns.

Such conditions as these have resulted in times of uncertainty and stress for all. Industry has been converted wholesale to war activities. Many businesses have all but failed. Civic and governmental agencies have been undone. Personal ambitions and plans have been thwarted and changed. Unrest and frustration are about us on every hand.

To keep on in times like these challenges the best that is in us. Many calls would lure us away into new tasks and new fields of activity. The spark of patriotism and loyalty prompts us to activities of service at time when service is so much needed. Leaders of boys and girls have constantly reminded that the best place for youth to serve is in keeping the home front. Many opportunities for worthwhile service are present here.

The highest loyalty of youth is to the preparation of one's self today for the tasks and assignments which will come in the years which lie ahead. The challenge is to our best today, and to the best we may become in the future.

MARGARET ANN ARMSTRONG

"Margaret Ann"

*"Not too quiet, not too gay,
But loyal and true in every way."*

Margaret Ann is always willing to do her part and can be counted on every time. She has the combined qualities of a student and a fun-loving girl. We are sure that her agreeable manner, kindness and capability will contribute a great deal toward making her successful as a nurse in the years to come.

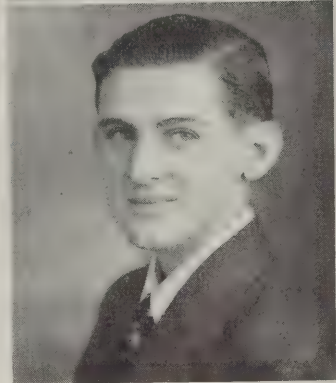

RALPH ASHBY CRAUN

"Craun"

*"I do not what I ought,
What I ought not, I do,
And lean upon the hope,
That chance will pull me through."*

Ralph is "little but loud." He is an aviation enthusiast and hopes to make a life work of it. Although he is the cause of a lot of trouble, he is a friend to everyone and would do anything to help you. Our best wishes to Ralph.

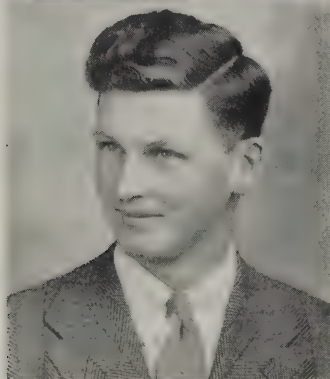

MILDRED ARDELE ATKINS

"Moody"

*"For she is an athlete
We know this to be true,
And when she gets the ball
Her opponent knows it too."*

We have all enjoyed having "Moody" in our class. Along with other training she has learned to be a real sport and has been a credit to our basketball team and school. As a friend to all with a smile for everyone she cannot be beat.

EDWIN ARLINGTON EYE

"Eddie"

*"Sometimes I sit and think
But most times I just sit."*

Although Eddie's real interest is on a farm, he will probably be in the navy in a very short time. He has lots of trouble with his 1934 Ford coupe because he tries to overload it. May the best of luck go with him.

SARA KATHERN BODKIN

"Sara"

*"A friend to one, a friend to all
If ever in need, give Sara a call."*

We have been lucky to have Sara in our class. Her smiles have added a lot around here. She was chief score keeper during the basketball season and did her bit to make the teams have a good showing. Best of luck to her as she leaves B.H.S.

Dear Pidge, I've really enjoyed being in school with you the last 10 years. We've had some swell times. Lots of love to a swell girl.

ORVILLE LEO GARDNER

"Chick"

"He is modest, he is shy,
But there's mischief in his eye."

Orville is quiet and his classmates have grown to admire him more each year. He is courteous, helpful, reliable and our class wouldn't be complete without him. When it comes to "draggin' down those grades," Orville is really in there. Best of luck to Orville from all his classmates.

EDNA ELIZABETH COFFMAN

"Edna"

"It is a good thing to be rich
And a good thing to be strong;
But it is a better thing to
Be admired by many friends."

Edna disproves the old adage that beauty and brains don't go together. During her high school career she has held many responsible positions. May we say in passing, "Edna, you're tops!"

Luck and happiness to you, Pidge. You've been a swell classmate.

CLINTON LEE KENNEDY

"Clinton"

"What's the use of all the strife
And hurrying pell-mell through life."

SARAH MARY GARTH

"Mary"

*"Quiet until you know her,
Then what a wealth you find,
A joyous spirit, clever, sweet,
A girl of the nicest kind."*

Without Mary our class would not be complete. In work and play she always does well any task given her to do. We hope she will be as successful in life as she has been at B.H.S.

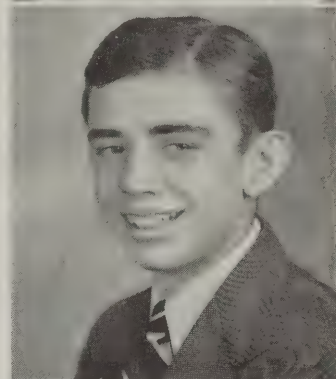

She is a very nice girl and a good friend.

CLAUDE FRANKLIN KERSH

"Claudie"

*"Why take life too seriously?
You will never get out of it alive."*

When Claude comes down the alley, the last bell has rung. He does not believe in loitering about school before time for work. Claude will be remembered by the seniors as the business man of the class distinguished by the ever appearing cigars in his coat pocket.

*Wishing you lots of luck and happiness.

RUBY OLA HUFFMAN

"Ruby"

*"Quiet and shy, reserved and true,
Much respect to her is due."*

LILLIAN ORPHA KNOTT

"Orpha"

*"Though she hasn't much to say,
She's a friend in every way."*

LEONARD ELWOOD MEYERHOEFFER

"Leonard"

"Take me as I am."

It would be better if more of us were like Leonard. His own affairs are of first concern to him. His sunny disposition won for him the respect of his classmates. We believe he will be successful in whatever he may choose to do.

Why can't they all be happy like me?"

HELEN BEATRICE MILLER

"Helen"

"When joy and duty clash, Let duty go to smash."

and happiness. Best wishes
from all friends.*

LEON WEAVER RHODES

"Buck"

Class History

As we, the Senior Class of '44, stand upon the threshold of our graduation, we can look back across the vista of the past four years as if again we see in retrospect the various stages through which we have passed. We might even imagine these years as taking on the form of some inanimate object, a ladder, perhaps. This ladder is rather exceptional in that it has only four rounds but each of these rounds constitute a major victory in gaining the pavilion to which the ladder leads—the pavilion entitled "GRADUATION."

On the first round of the ladder we catch a glimpse of a rather awed group of Freshmen, but a group of Freshmen steadfastly determined to do the right thing, at the correct time, and in the proper place (they hope). Accordingly, we see them organizing and preparing to take their proper place in society at B.H.S. Selected to hold offices are: Edna Coffman, president, Don Argenbright, vice-president, Nancy Rhodes, secretary, and Franklin Whitmore, treasurer. "Make the Better Best" is chosen as the class motto, rose and silver as the class colors, and the rose as the class flower. Having thus established themselves, they find being a "green" Freshman not at all bad and then, the first thing they know, most of them are "flirty" Sophomores.

The next round of our ladder is rather crowded. The "Rats" of last year have now become the largest class in high school. To help them steer their way about the pitfalls and "booby-traps" which their unwary feet might uncover, they choose the following officers: Leon Rhodes, president, Don Argenbright, vice-president, Edna Coffman, secretary, and Mary Garth, treasurer. At times the rounds of the ladder seem rather slippery and their footing precarious but they won the right to uphold the title of "jolly" juniors.

As we see them perched atop the third round, we pause to bestow a second look upon them as they are now "influential upper classmen." That year they choose Raymond Miller, president, Leon Rhodes, vice-president, Charles Miller, secretary, and Franklin Whitmore, treasurer.

The fourth and last round of our ladder bears the "magic" words "Seniors." Here we find Raymond Miller as president, Nancy Rhodes as vice-president, Mildred Revercomb as secretary, and Charles Miller as treasurer. Peering closely at this round of the ladder, we see some objects which the seniors seem to be having a little difficulty carrying with them. We've noticed these burdens on every round but somehow they seem a little heavier this year. Perhaps it's well that the edge of the pavilion is only a little distance away. The boys and girls who occupy the last round of the ladder stand in its shadow looking upward, and for a moment their thoughts are with their classmates who have been called into the service of their country. Then they step onto the pavilion realizing that they, too, have been doing their part for America by gaining an education which will help them to be more broadminded and better equipped to meet her problems and their own.

It Can And May Happen Again

At the end of World War Number One, in 1918, Thousands of Young People who had held Positions with Defense Industries were Put Out of Employment. They were Untrained for Clerical Work.

At the Very Same Time there was a Demand for Clerically Trained People, But They Were Scarce.

Are you Going to let this Same Thing Happen to you at the close of this War? You will unless you Arrange to take your Training after your Graduation from High School.
